Program Overview

A certification program is available for working professionals, with a certifiable bachelor's degree, who wish to earn Wisconsin early adolescence/adolescence teaching licensure.

The College of Education offers a variety of certification programs which prepare students to obtain state certification and licensure. Certification program requirements are in alignment with requirements for educational licensure through the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction. Certificates are granted by the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction. The university's decisions on recommendations for certification are made by its licensing officer after appropriate consultations and requirement reviews.

This certificate program is designed to meet the needs of the working professional with a certifiable bachelor's degree who wish to earn an initial Wisconsin early adolescence/adolescence teaching license and requires students to complete the DPI minimum of 15 credit hours¹ of course work.

Doctoral Program

The EDPL doctoral program develops educational scholar-practitioners, researchers, and leaders who possess the commitment, perspective, and skills to implement strategies for greater equity in a variety of educational settings. Students inquire deeply into the foundational knowledge of education, exploring how the organization of schools, institutions of higher education, and society shape educational processes. Students gain theoretical knowledge in specific disciplinary/topical concentrations, enabling them to further examine educational practice in a chosen context. Finally, students acquire expertise in research methods which equip them to advance and enact educational knowledge. The program supports EDPL Ph.D. graduates to work actively to create a more just society.
